- Heading to West, you have to go up to the main road to get in the heart of Pekutatan village. Before and after the Junction to the North, a choice of local shops proposing materials, clothing, pharmacy, hardware, food and drinks may entice you.

The day market takes place around 8 AM to 8PM depending on trade activities. It is an animated meeting point for the fresh food products from the villages around Pekutatan.

The night one is located east in a big location, 200 meters from the junction to the North.

RUBBER FACTORY

2 km from Puri Dajuma, in the middle of Pekutatan, there is a junction to the north of the island (Pupuan direction) with a small temple in the middle.

After a few kilometers, you will find on the right an old factory where the rubber tree sap is transformed into natural latex. Using natural material in a traditional way, the process and its long different stages is quite impressive in terms of human involvement. Should you visit this reminder of old times, the schedule have to be checked in advance.

PLANTATION

Rubber factory is located in front of the main entrance of the State Plantation, covering 1200 hectares.

Rubber trees have replaced the former coconut trees, as the main plantation.

But clove, coffee, cacao as well as mango, papaya, vanilla and the everywhere coconut are the products grown there, thanks to the rich volcanic ground of Bali.

You may have a visit organised, to better know about the State Plantation, or you may watch it from your own when climbing a bit higher on the road.

BUNUT BOLONG

Pekutatan center is the place where you can leave the busy road to Java for climbing a smaller and beautiful Balinese road to the north of Bali.

After 7 Km you will pass through a giant « Bunut » tree (which means, « with a hole ») myth full and sacred. As such, there is an old temple surrounded by the forest, with points of view of the ocean on the south, and mountains on the north.

JUWUK MANIS WATERFALL (AIR TERJUN)

You will find this 15 meter high waterfall at 8 km East of Bunut Bolong.

From the welcoming Manggisari village you will go down on foot to the Stream, using a path through local plantation like coffee and vanilla.

Surrounded by a pristine environment you will enjoy its clear water falling down to a large natural bathtub: a hit for flowing water lovers.

Don’t forget your walking shoes as the ground could be slippery… and your bathing suit.

MEDEWI

Medewi beach is well known by the surfers community from all over the world about its left long wave, gathering competitors each year. It is located 2km from Puri Dajuma by the road and less than 1 km by the beach when the water conditions at low tide allow to walk along the seashore and cross two small rivers.

Another attract of Medewi is its hinterland, a great landscape in a peaceful atmosphere. Using small roads and paths, you may enjoy the large rice fields covering huge slopes, the coolness of the Medewi river dam, as well as the communal irrigation and channels, called « Subak ».

Quiet traditional Balinese houses line the plantations.

An opportunity to deeply breath in the nature, with some views of the ocean.

Like it ? book the « Farming tour » and become for one hour an authentic rice producer !

RAMBUT SIWI TEMPLE

Located 7km from West Pekutatan, overhanging the ocean and surrounded by rice fields and fruit plantations, Rambut Siwi temple is a main holy place for the Hindu Balinese people. It has a close relation to the spiritual journey of Dangyang Nirartha, a famous priest from Java Island.

Built above a cliff in the XVth century, in a wonderful traditional Balinese architecture, it is a must at sunset.
